Reminder: New Deadline!

I'm sure it's going to take a while to get used to the new earlier deadline of 17th of each month, so I thought it best to publish a reminder. We had 9 articles miss the deadline this month. Fortunately for them, due to a surge in my paid work I was running a little late myself meaning that you all got in, but I can't say that'll be the case every month. Get your articles in before noon on the 17th or risk disappointment...

Remember - email me if you want an automated reminder each month.

Welcome to our new advertisers! With the Sturminster Exchange coming on board, I've created a new entertainment feature, which will no doubt grow over coming months. We're so lucky to have so much great live music in the village.

Starting next issue, we'll be featuring a different Marnhull business - finding out more about the people that provide vital services to the community. If you'd like to feature - get in touch! There'll be a waiting list, so get in quick...

Garden Reflections for the month of...

It is a beautiful January morning and looking out the window I am reminded what a great place Marnhull is to live. The sun is glistening on the newly restored weather vane on St Gregory's Church and the grass is all frosty, another few weeks and the bulbs I planted last Autumn will be bursting into life. It's a timely reminder that another great year of gardening is about to begin and all that hard work again.....but the fresh air and exercise is needed and the Radox Soak is ready.

When we bought our house here 18 months ago, downsizing was the brief, I just forgot to apply the rule to the garden! So in the Spring of 2016 I was ready for my first growing season but I still didn't know what was planted in the garden already. As I hoed the soil, I disturbed things with strange wiggly roots and had no idea what they were, so I tucked them back into the soil and they delighted us in the Autumn when an array of Hardy Cyclamen popped up above the soil. Primroses sprang up everywhere and a varied collection of Hellebores filled the borders.

Safe in the knowledge that gardening was in my genes, I sat down with a seed catalogue and merrily ordered all sorts of goodies. My great grandfather was a market gardener according to the 1881 census, my grandfather grew all the flowers for my wedding, my nan gave me my own flower patch in her garden and I fondly remember going to the allotment with my Dad - I also attribute my fear of worms to him, as he thought it funny to throw them at me!

I pestered people for knowledge and avidly watched Gardeners World and my hero Monty Don. I 'googled' unabated for answers on just about everything and was soon fully prepared to repel Carrot Fly, Blossom End Rot and Potato Blight and many other gardeners enemies. I left every Garden Club meeting convinced that I needed more Grasses, Herbs, Perennials, whatever they talked about, I needed itexcept for the Otters that is! I even reached an agreement with the worms.....you don't hurt me and I don't hurt you!

Everyone warned about being too over enthusiastic but I sowed everything I had, resulting in masses of seedlings, too many to pot on, nowhere to put them and an inability to murder them by putting them on the compost heap. Those that failed completely got replaced from the garden centre and against all odds I had quite a few plants ready to go in the ground when the time for planting out came. The established Strawberries and Raspberries began to ripen and the dog was regularly caught supplementing his five a day!

On Monty's advise, the carrots were carefully thinned, ensuring no carrot fly were about to bombard my little seedlings. My peas grew up their twiggy sticks and I couldn't wait for them to fatten - at the first taste of my own fresh peas I was 8 years old again back on my dad's allotment! and to top it all they only went and scooped 1st prize at the Marnhull Show...... beginners luck??

The beans took somewhat longer but once they started producing, they didn't stop. The tomatoes though failed miserably, one day they were fine , the next they looked as if a whirlwind had hit them, I watched Monty the following week and he was having the same problem so that was okay!

We had also inherited a huge Apple tree, as well as providing lovely cool shade for the dog an abundance of apples meant we could give some away, but I soon discovered nearly everyone in Marnhull has access to apples! So I set about producing all manner of pies, crumbles and Tarte Tatins. The dog decided to feast on the daily 'fallers' as well, but that didn't go down too

So that was 2016 and now 2017 is looming. I am a little more knowledgeable and will not be so over eager. I have resolved to not plant quite so much and not too soon but time will tell.

Now where's that new gardening catalogue?.....what can I order?

Alan Eason's talk on Wall Shrubs and Climbers brightened up a dull winter evening with lovely slides of healthy plants – and also gave some examples of very bad plantings.

Walls provide shelter, radiated warm and drier soil than surrounding areas. However, some plants given such surroundings can become a real problem – he showed a wall which required scaffolding in order to tackle an ivy which had enjoyed years on untrammeled growth into gutters, roof tiles and anywhere it could reach. And then a beautiful wisteria on a rented house, which had reached the gutters, destroyed downpipes and managed to get its roots through the wall into the house and was enjoying spreading behind a bookcase before it was discovered! And a lovely clematis-covered wall a few feet from a large pond – the only way of pruning would be for a ladder in the water!

He gave a brisk trot through the types of shrubs and climbers available, and stressed the need for forward-thinking i.e. a clematis and a rose growing together will need to be pruned but the best time for one is not the best for the other – and that the type of support is also crucial – to weak, it collapses, too large it becomes bare and obtrusive. Plenty to think about in the coming months.

Next month is the AGM followed by American Supper – please remember to bring a plate of food to share – finger food only.

NB: Nellie Moser was not "a flightly piece" – the name was created by the bybridiser Marcel Moser. My apologies.

Women's Institute

I cannot do justice to Nick Lalor's talk "One Man's sound is another man's cacophony". Just the basics. All sound is caused by vibration, and the human ear is incredibly able to adapt to a huge range of pressure fluctuations which enable us to hear.

This is done, at its simplest, by tiny hairs in the inner ear (cochlea) – which once destroyed are never regrown, thus hearing loss can only be countered by artificial means. Our ears are most sensitive to the cry of a child (although it is interesting that the voice of males eventually breaks, but that of females does not), and it is the highest frequency range of hearing which is destroyed first, probably because these hairs are the first to encounter the pressure wave of sound.

He played a note on a violin, and the same note on the recorder. Whilst the two sounds were identical in pitch, the violin string vibrates at many frequencies whereas the recorder only has one dominant frequency, thus fewer harmonics. We could all hear the difference. And then a teaspoon tapped at two places on the rim of a cup – two different sounds because of the effect of the cup handle.

Sound propagation has a domino effect, or like ripples in a pond as it travels – it is the pressure disturbance that travels, not the actual particles of air. The sound barrier is caused by the aircraft travelling at or faster than the speed of sound (760 mph) bursting through the barrier of the pressure waves building up in front of and behind it – thus the double bang that is heard as both waves pass over a ground observer.

It was a fascinating talk and much appreciated, though he was unable to explain the phenomenon of Selective Deafness in Husbands and Children – a whole new subject!

Next month, 13th February, it is "Reading Matters" with Jill Kieran & Pat Budden. Visitors are always welcome.

YOUR NHS - Working together to shape Dorset's Health

Over the past two years, the NHS in Dorset has been carrying out a major review of health care services in the county and detailed plans are being formulated for the future. These proposals are now available for public consultation until the end of February.

You can find out more at the Poppin Café in the Village Hall on Friday 17th February between 10.00 & 12.00. There will be the opportunity to pick up a consultation document and questionnaire and to find more about the proposals.

Local residents are encouraged to take part in this consultation to give their views about proposals that could see major changes to acute hospital and community care services across Dorset. If agreed, the changes will help Dorset to deliver its forward-looking five year plan for improving health and care services, which are published in the local Sustainability and Transformation Plan.

You can also find information about the proposals at www.dorsetsvision. nhs.uk

Parking at Sturminster Newton Medical Centre & the Exchange

The medical Centre in Stur, continues to experience difficulties with parking for patients and for genuine visitors to the Exchange next door. Parking bays are as follows: The Green bays are short stay for patients and should only be used whilst attending appointments.

The Red bays are for permit holders which include spaces for doctors. Please do not park in these bays, as from time to time doctors need to leave urgently to attend to patients in their homes and they need to be able to park quickly on their return.

White bays are for short stay parking only. These are for visitors to the Exchange and other offices on the site. They are not intended for all day parking for workers or residents of Sturminster Newton.

Other car parking is available in the town and we would like to ask everyone if they could please be considerate in their parking habits. Many patients find walking any distance quite difficult, so it is important they can park near to the entrance.

We will continue to monitor the situation over the next couple of months. When polite notices are placed on offending vehicles we receive a barrage of complaints and abuse. This is really unacceptable and we need to work together to make the best use of the spaces we have available for our patients.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

This is my first time of writing in the Messenger as I am now your new PCSO for the Marnhull and the wider rural area. Some of you will already know me as I have worked in Sturminster Town for nearly 10 years and due to Kate Hann having left for the bright lights of Ferndown, I have decided to take the plunge and take on the rural patch!

On Friday 16th December I attended the POPPin café at the village hall, I was pleasantly surprised to see how well supported this was and spoke with many of the attendees. I also enjoyed a cup of tea and a slice of the most delicious ginger cake, I will return.

When everything came in over the Remembrance fortnight and was counted up the total just for that period was a fraction under £3,000 so Marnhull give yourselves a pat on the back. That is a tremendous total for such a small village and credit mainly due to our Poppy Appeal Organiser Val Eslick for coordinating the whole thing.

Of course collecting goes on all year and it would be remiss of me not to mention Lyn Bartlett's Bingo which has raised £3,393 in 2016 and £6,446 in the three years it has been running. This year's Christmas bingo which attracted over a hundred punters made a profit of £850. It takes a lot of effort to run the bingo and Lyn does a tremendous job so come and have a game and support a good cause when the bingo returns after the winter break on March 6th.

Clapper Chaos a handbell group from Poole came up to entertain us on Sunday 27th November. Everyone who came said it was very enjoyable and the consensus was that it was not anything like what was expected. The three members showed great dexterity in getting to the correct bells at the correct time and played a wide range of pieces from carols through classical to the Pogue's 'Fairytale of New York'. At the end of the session there was an auction of cakes that with the entry donations meant that £141 was raised for the poppy Appeal.

We have been trying to start a crib night on the second and fourth Mondays of the month. It has had mixed success but we will persevere for a while and see if it picks up. The first one in February will be on the 6th. You do not need to be a member to begin with so feel free to come down and give it a try be you a beginner or an expert we will mix and match.

The jumble sale on January 14th was also a great success making a profit of £314. The next one is on March 4th so if you have anything from small pieces of furniture to books and bric-a-brac give me a call, I will collect.

As usual Tony has laid on a full programme of entertainment with something to suit all tastes from Country, to 60's pop and up to heavier rock. Entry for non-members is a modest £2, so don't sit in front of the TV come down and be assured of a warm welcome.

Marnhull Ramblers & Shorts

Get Fit in 2017!

Marnhull Shorts gave twenty nine walkers the opportunity to keep up their New Year's resolution to 'get fit' when we met at the Crown for our first walk of the year. After a number of really wet and grey days in early January, the morning of the Marnhull Short dawned bright and clear, if a little blustery, and Audrey led us on the WI Triangle Walk around Moorside. Audrey's decision to keep to the roads for this walk was wise as the footpaths in the village had become very muddy and slippery due to the long period of damp weather we have experienced. As usual, a number of the walkers stayed on to enjoy a sociable lunch at the pub.

Our next Marnhull Short walk is on 8th February starting at the Ship Inn at West Stour and will follow the Stour Valley Way, skimming to the north of Fifehead Magdalen and crossing the River Stour at the Stour Provost water mill. We need volunteers to organise walks, please contact Ros Eveleigh on 821049 if you are interested in helping out.

Marnhull Music Society - January

lan Treece presented the Music Society with a wonderful, varied selection of some of his favourite music. A delightful and lively programme ranging from Bach and Vivaldi through Widor, Mozart and Handel, to Glen Miller, Nat King Cole and The Beatles!!

Chopin's Piano Concerto No. 2 was memorable and a Beethoven String Quartet jolly and lively. The haunting Romance from The Gadfly, played beautifully by Tasmin Little and Grieg's Wedding Day at Troldhaugen were favourites! Altogether a programme to remember with the utmost pleasure.

Thoughts from the Rector

A guiz guestion I came across recently:

How much of their DNA does a human being share with a banana?

Correct answer: 52%

Can this be true? How amazing! Does this mean that two bananas make one human being?

Should I greet a banana as my half-brother before I eat it?

Joking aside, there are often more similarities between things than we think. Or, to put it in another way, when we get down to the basic components, differences seem to be less than we are inclined to think.

This is something which has been borne in upon Christians more and more over the past century or so, as there has been a focus upon, and prayer about, Christian Unity. Starting from a point where people of different denominations and traditions focused solely on those things which divided them and where they were likely to say: "On no account would I share in worship with them" – perhaps even: "I wouldn't be seen dead in that church/chapel" etc, we have more and more been encouraged to focus on the fundamental aspects of our faith and practice that unite us and less on our points of divergence.

This is not to say that differences no longer exist, but that in focusing on what we have in common, we hope to be more effective in witnessing to our faith and putting it into practice in our community.

One likes to think that Marnhull Village Care, and the Marnhull Messenger, started as joint ventures between the churches of the village, are a case in point.

Would that the world would be more ready to learn this lesson: to look for points of agreement rather than to focus on (even rejoice in) those things which divide.

The conflicts in the Middle East, Syria and the Yemen in particular, and South Sudan, cannot be brought to an end as long as those concerned see only their differences, even forgetting, it seems, their common humanity. In political discourse in our own country, people habitually seem to 'talk up' their differences, and not to look for common goals to which all might aspire.

Between young and old, within families and communities, wherever people come together, the temptation may emerge to focus on that which divides rather than that which unites. When next you find yourself tempted to act in that way, remember the lowly banana! If he (or she?) is half the person you are, how much more honour, respect and fellow-feeling is due to those human beings you come across day by day!

Hoping you find this a fruitful message,

Tony Wilds

Atom Club - Non-Profit Science & Coding Club

We've just about recovered from the Christmas rush and most of the range is back in stock now. A huge thank you to Robin Hill Post Office for putting up with our daily post runs!

Thank you to all that shared and pledged on our recent Crowdfunding campaign. I'd pleased to say that with a great pledge from Dorset County Council we managed to get most of the funding we need to open our Science & Technology Centre. We're exploring 2 possible locations in Sturminster Newton, so watch this space. We've re-launched the campaign (see: www.atom.club/pledge) to raise the rest of the funds needed and remain confident that we can open just after Easter.

I was invited to talk about Atom Club on BBC Radio Solent in the New Year which was a new experience to say the least! It went well and we've been invited back in the near future.

Some of our funds have been invested in new artefacts to take round schools. We've expanded our collection of meteorites and now have a great range of fossils too. Our product range has been expanded to now include items such as shark teeth and dinosaur poo necklaces! Yes you read that right! A quirky gift that is proving very popular. We've started collecting various things for the new centre, including a beautiful brass mechanical solar system - it's incredible and very popular with the kids.

Astronaut Chris Hadfield Endorsing Atom Club

I was invited to meet Astronaut Chris Hadfield before he gave a talk in Bristol this week. If the name doesn't ring a bell - this was the guy who recorded a music video (a cover of David Bowie's Space Oddity) while on the International Space Station. He's commanded both the Space Shuttle and the Russian Soyuz.

Being a fan of his, I had a list of questions for him, but being the guy he is, he was more interested in finding out about the Atom Club! It was clear that he would give up his time freely to encourage the STEM education of the next generation.

His talk that evening was inspirational and filled with humour. He answered my question at the end of the show and gave his guitar plectrum to an excited 10-year old boy sitting in the front row - a future astronaut in the making perhaps! I heard when I got home that he stayed for over an hour after the show to sign autographs. An all-round top bloke. If you haven't read his book, I'd highly recommend it - unfortunately we're sold out!

Nextdoor Marnhull

A friend in a west Kent community has passed on an idea that might interest some of those living in Marnhull. It's a Neighbourhood website called Nextdoor which is used locally to exchange ideas, recommendations and share safety tips, events and get to know each other amongst other things.

On the face of it this could be a good idea but with the plethora of Social Media sites already in existence I have some doubts as to whether it's worthwhile.

However that is for others to judge. But they should beware because Nextdoor is a registered name operating out of Fetter Lane in the city of London and since the site would be free one can only imagine those behind the initiative are planning to use the email addresses on each site to target them with offers, advertising and the like.

This leaves everyone open to more scams than we already receive. Apparently there are already more than 2700 sites.

Beware: Fake Amazon Emails

Action Fraud has received several reports from victims who have been sent convincing looking emails claiming to be from Amazon.

The spoofed emails from "service@amazon.co.uk" claim recipients have made an order online and mimic an automatic customer email notification.

The scam email claims recipients have ordered an expensive vintage chandelier. Other reported examples include: Bose stereos, iPhone's and luxury watches.

The emails cleverly state that if recipients haven't authorised the transaction they can click on the help centre link to receive a full refund.

The link leads to an authentic-looking website, which asks victims to confirm their name, address, and bank card information.

Amazon says that suspicious e-mails will often contain:

Links to websites that look like Amazon.co.uk, but aren't Amazon.co.uk.

Attachments or prompts to install software on your computer.

Typos or grammatical errors.

Forged (or spoofed) e-mail addresses to make it look like the e-mail is coming from Amazon.co.uk.

Amazon will never ask for personal information to be supplied by e-mail.

St. Gregory's C.E.VA Primary School

It was with great excitement during their first week back at school after the Christmas break that the children of St Gregory's awaited the 'big reveal' of their new whole school theme. Mrs Field, headteacher, was leading this and on Friday the wait was over. Their school hall had been transformed into an ice-skating rink.

All the children and staff had an opportunity to have a go on the ice, with or without the help of a penguin! The children developed their skating skills during the sessions, some of the older children and Miss Edwards, Foxes class teacher, were even seen to be 'dancing on ice'. At times there were definitely demonstrations of 'Bambi legs' and wobbles but the whole experience was extremely popular with all the children, who have requested it every year!

Some of our youngest children dressed as penguins on the ice. They have been learning all about penguins and are busy planning a trip to see them at Longleat.

We are continuing to work with the Dorset Music service with their Muscicianship programme which is designed so that young musicians can get an early understanding of the skills and ability needed to learn an instrument. Our Year 3 and 4 children in Squirrels class were delighted when they had their first lesson on both trumpet and trombone.

All of our children will be taking part in 'Forest School' sessions this term where they will be able to experience nature and learn outdoors. Children will learn from first hand experience and develop skills like, perserverance, independence and responsibility.

They will be taught den building, cooking and making drinks using a fire, making animal homes and using tools. Our ducks will shortly be joined by three 'Kune Kune 'baby pigs. Their house is already in place and they should be with us in the next two weeks. Kunes are very gentle and are easy to handle. We will keep you posted with their progress.

St. Mary's Catholic School

Our Spring Term had a dramatic start when the whole school had a fantastic day of drama to launch their new topic 'London Calling'. The children took on different roles from 17th Century London and reenacted the days leading up to the Great Fire. We had butchers, bakers, Candlestick makers and even ferry men to take the sick and injured across the river. They all found this fascinating and were so engrossed in their roles that continued to act out scenes through their playtime.

The children have also looked at modern day London and created a landscape of famous landmarks across the Hall. We now have a view of the Thames running from Big Ben to Tower Bridge. Our topic will continue with Key Stage Two spending a day in London visiting different landmarks across the city and taking a tour around the Tate Modern Gallery.

We are working hard to raise the profile of reading across the school and this term we have launched our new 'Reading Buddies' initiative. The children are paired with someone else within the school and everyone reads together, questioning each other on the texts that they share. Ofsted paid us a visit in the middle of January. They spent the day visiting classes and were pleased to see that the children were well behaved and worked well.

Our Explorers are also learning about London this term and have been reading 'The Naughty Bus', a story about a London bus that doesn't behave as it should! The children have been building Big Ben and The Tower of London out of construction materials.

With the cold weather, there have been plenty of opportunities to experiment with ice. The children impressed our Ofsted inspector with their problem solving skills in their efforts to release cars that had been frozen solid in a block of ice. They used tools and hot water sprays to rescue the vehicles.

St Mary's Explorers is open from 8:45am – 3:15pm every week day during term time and spaces are available for children aged 3 years +. The unit allows preschool and Reception children to work together on lots of key areas of learning, something that OfSTED agree allows younger children to make greater progress. If you would like to have a look around, or come and stay for a taster session, please call 01258 820417 to make an appointment. (Sessions: £4 per hour/£24 for full day, Early Education Funding vouchers accepted)

Marnhull Baby & Toddlers

On 24th November we had a lovely morning with Gill coming in with her Usborne Books. We had a raffle prize of £17 which was fantastic.

Surestart visit us on 8th December to talk to all the parents and give us up to date information on everything that is happening near by. They also gave contact information for all help that is available and courses that anyone might be interested in. She bought a lovely activity for the children, it was to decorate christmas baubles.

Our Christmas party on the 15th December was a great success, we had a visit from Santa and his elf who gave everyone a present, a big thank you goes to Alan and Nicola Denham for helping us out again, you did a great job. We played snowman skittles which the children really enjoyed knocking them all over. There was also party games and lots of yummy party food. It was a brilliant morning.

On the 2nd February we have happy Huggers joining us with her amazing cosy products.

We will also be having valentine's craft on 9th February as it is half term the week of valentine's and we will not be there.

Emma and Dee

Jungle Hut Pre-School

What a year we had here at the Jungle hut starting with our OFSTED Inspection in April with comments such as:

Outcomes for children are good

All children make good progress. They are confident, independent and well-motivated to learn. They listen well at group times and follow instructions. They share well with one another and communicate their needs successfully. They show an interest in books and stories and practice their early writing skills, as they write for different purposes, for example, making appointments at the vets or writing a shopping list. These skills help to prepare children well for starting school.

We celebrated our success with a trip to Bristol zoo in May which was totally amazing we left Marnhull at 9.30am returning at 7.30pm we thought the children would fall asleep on the return journey but no such luck we all sang from the zoo back to Marnhull sore throats all round then!!we also experienced a massive storm somewhere near Cheddar caves the rain was coming in the windows to the amusement of the children.

The introduction of Forest school's lessons has given all children the opportunity to experience an inspirational process that offers children regular opportunities to achieve, and develop confidence and self-esteem through hands on learning experiences in a woodland and farming environment. This has included finding footprints which the children decided were bear footprints this inspired acting out "Were going on a bear hunt" Using a great deal of imagination the children collected sticks to make Jungle animals and just recently exploring the frost and ice and the effects on animals and plants not to mention observing the ice webs and counting how many webs are on the farm gate.

We took all the children who were leaving us to Monkey world this was again a wonderful day we were so lucky with both trips to have good weather resulting in great outdoor picnics.

Discovering the Bear footprints

Foot printing

We came back to start the school year with limited places which have now been filled so a very busy time, the creation of extra play space has enabled us to increase numbers of children attending Yes after six years I have surrendered my office to create this space. We are in the process of turning this space in to a sensory area we are currently waiting for the delivery of equipment and resources to help us complete this very exciting project.

Last September saw the introduction of opening all year-round Monday to Friday 50 weeks a year this is to help us prepare for the extended 30 hours free Early Education Grant (15 Hours plus) which the Government will implement from September 2017.

We are pleased to say our Holiday clubs have been well supported providing more flexible childcare provision for parents and carers.

We ended the year with a festive fun week which included our Christmas party with a chicken pox epidemic upon us we were pleased with 34 children coming along to enjoy Jamie Jigsaw entertain us with lots of tricks and Juggling ending his act with a daredevil stunt that left us all speechless!! Jamie is brilliant at encouraging the children to help him with his tricks and juggling, have booked him already for party 2017. We had a festive food lunch all prepared in our pre-school kitchen ending our party with a visit from Father Christmas who came with his own very special elf helper. Thank you Father Christmas and Elf for taking the time to come and see us and bring some lovely presents.

Helping Jamie Jigsaw with some tricks

So here we are heading towards the spring with the daffodils, Crocus and many other spring bulbs now sprouting their green shoots in the garden, we have a very special visitor to the garden a very friendly tame Robin who will literally land by the children as they play the children feed him meal worms every day and have named him Robert. We also have a Squirrel who is not as friendly but enjoys showing us his tight rope skills on the cables behind Pre-school the children have called him Cyril. We always know when Spring is on its way here at the Jungle Hut as we will soon see the arrival of the swifts who fly all the way from Africa to spend the summer flying around and resting on our roof.

The theme for the holiday Club before the start of the term was The Jungle the children enjoyed making lots of Jungle Animals and made a fabulous safari truck which the children helped to paint and then took turns to drive we are planning to have farm themed holiday Clubs at a local working farm.

Themes up to half term are Winter making snowmen with many other winter activities as I write this article my taste buds are going in to overdrive as the children are preparing vegetable soup it smells so good I am wondering if I can join them for lunch today.

Leading up to half term the children are exploring transport this will include making the role play area in to a Garage and then a Hospital the children will learn about different occupations such as an Ambulance driver and what their role involves. The children will explore the environment around us looking for road signs and what they mean as well as spotting numbers and letters.

Looking forward to the rest of the year we have booked one outing this being a visit to Lulworth cove to visit the Dinosaurs and Museum as well as exploring the beach with the help of a Ranger from Lulworth cove - who knows we may even find some fossils. Lots to look forward to here at the Jungle hut.

We take children from 2 years – 5years accepting 2year old and 3/4year-old Nursery Grant. To find out more about what we get up to the Jungle Hut please visit our website at junglehutpreschool.com or have a look at our Facebook page. If you would like to know more about the Jungle hut and the flexible childcare, we offer please get in touch. Email junglehutpreschool@gmail.com

Marnhull Craft Club

Decorative Glass Making Demo

The Marnhull Craft Club programme for this year has now been arranged and we welcome anyone to come to our March meeting in the Methodist Church Hall on Thursday 2nd at 10a.m to a demonstration of decorative glass making. You are most welcome just for that morning or to join us regularly on the first Thursday month for craft or simply for a cup of coffee. Our February meeting is about 'Mary's Ideas Book', when we will be reviewing what crafts we have done over the years since we began to see if there are any ideas newer members would like to reprise. Why not come along and see if there's anything there for you?

Mothers' Union

In December we had our Christmas afternoon with various quizzes and a sketch followed by tasty, seasonal morsels with our cups of tea.

In January we welcomed our newest member, Marian, and she joined 13 others for a fun filled afternoon. Barrie Jenks, an accomplished magician, entertained us with a variety of tricks and jokes resulting in both amazement and plenty of laughter.

The committee is currently working on the programme for the coming year ready for the AGM which is on February 8th at 2.30 in the Methodist Church Hall.

Music Club

Jean Shiner did not disappoint with her programme at the November Meeting. We went from Mozart (Exsultate Jubilate), via Bach, Haydn and Verdi to a lovely Schubert Impromptu. Then a concerto for two mandolins (actually played on guitars) by Vivaldi, and one of my favourites, an extract from Judex by Gounod. A quick touch of Spain in Concierto de Aranjuez, and The sad sea waves" by the New Scorpion band, which I hadn't heard before, and liked a lot. After the interval we lightened up with Die Fledermaus", Carmen, and Elgar interspersed with Chopin, Bach and Beethoven. A lovely programme much appreciated.

The next meeting, after our Christmas party, will be on 16 January and visitors are always welcome.

Anyone interested in wine tasting?

I wonder if there would be any interest in setting up a wine tasting group in the village? Similar groups elsewhere seem to aim to have a meeting every other month or so. Someone, either from within the group or from outside, gives a short talk on something to do with wine (eg a region, country, or grape type). Half a dozen wines related to the subject of the talk are available for tasting, together with some nibbles, eg cheese and biscuits. Usually at least rudimentary tasting notes are provided, together with information on the retailers from whom the wines can be bought. Spitoons may be available, but don't have to be used!

The aim would be to learn a little more at each meeting about the differences between individual wines, and for members to extend their knowledge of the range of wines available nowadays, perhaps becoming just a little more discerning over time as to what is on offer and what they like best. The emphasis would be on identifying preferences, rather than on becoming in any way an expert. This group would definitely be designed for amateurs, and open to anyone with an interest!

To cover costs, members would need to stump up around £40-£50/year. I'd propose a working title for the group as the Wine Tasting Forum, or Marnhull WTF for short. Depending on numbers and people's preferences, we could either meet in the Village Hall or in members' houses.

Just a thought. If you're interested, please drop me an e-mail with your contact details and, if there's sufficient demand, I'll try to find a date in the next few weeks for an initial get-together.

Marnhull Music Society

The Music Society's Christmas meeting began with a cheering glass of mulled wine brewed to our Chairman secret recipe. While we relaxed, Alan Loukes presented a programme of mainly seasonal music chosen by members of the committee. It started with some great favourites: Tchaikovky's Pathetique, the intermezzo from Cavalleria Rusticana, and then moved on to more Christmassy pieces.

One surprise was a version of Andrew Lloyd Webbers Pie Jesu played by his brother Julian on the cello. A truly gorgeous sound, and an unfamiliar one, was Praetorius' Es is ein Ros. This is definitely a recommended listen.

After some more familiar carols and yuletide pieces, including Sleigh Ride, evidently dreamed up by Leroy Anderson during a fierce heatwave in 1946 in the hope that it would cool him down, we had Bacchanale from Glazunov'"Seasons" which is a sprightly piece with a definitely pagan feel.

My favourite of the evening was Unto us a child is born from Handel's "Messiah". I remember trying to sing this in school music lessons, and a love of the whole work has stayed with me ever since. The gruff and tough Miss Maiden, the music teacher who hectored and shouted at us inept teenagers, should be beaming on her cloud. The interwoven voices and sheer joyfulness of the piece seem to symbolise the season.

The concert ended with the lovely Carol of the Bells which Alan told us came originally from the Ukraine, and a last rousing medley of the jolliest of the Christmas songs by the Halifax Choral Society.

After the music came the mince pies, coffee and a quiz compiled by Jean Shiner. She obviously pitched the questions very well. My team felt pretty clever at answering nearly all of them correctly only to find we hadn't been quite clever enough to win the prize.

Our concert on 20th February is "Ladies' Choice" presented by Judy Fyfe. Visitors are always welcome to join us for the evening to see how they like the society.

Thank You

Thank you to everyone on the Crown Estate and to the staff and customers of The Crown Inn, who supported my daughter, Maisie, and her friends, who were carol singing on 20th December. Thanks to your generosity we sent a cheque for a fantastic £250 to Emerson Grant. Emerson is two years old and has been left paralysed from the waist down by an arachnoid cyst and his family, who we know from before we moved to Marnhull, are raising money to help buy a wheelchair and fund rehabilitation. Anna, Emerson's mum, sends her heartfelt thanks to our lovely community. Emerson unfortunately was in hospital over Christmas with a chest infection but Anna said that he liked the video of the girls singing and it made them feel festive. You can read more on Facebook at Emerson Grant's Story - The road to recovery.

Thank you all, Jane Whichello

The Blackmore Vale Art Group is holding a coffee morning and art sale in the Village Hall on Saturday 18th March from 10.30 am until 12.30. Proceeds will go toward the refurbishment of the hall. Everyone welcome!

#CrowdfundDorset

Crowdfunding makes youth projects happen

Dorset Council and Crowdfunder UK have teamed up to launch a £200,000 youth fund for new projects. It's the first time the council have used 'crowdfunding' as a way to help people and groups to make their ideas a reality by raising funds from 'the crowd'.

As Debbie Ward, chief executive of the county council, says:

"Crowdfunding is a new and exciting way for us to help unlock the incredible ideas and potential within our communities and make a real difference for people in Dorset."

If you have a great idea for young people in your community, why not crowdfund to make it happen? It's really easy to do. Just follow the simple guide below and start raising money.

What is crowdfunding?

It's a way to raise money, awareness and support for a project from the people around you, or 'the crowd'.

How does it work?

You start with great idea and add it to a crowdfunding website. People can back your idea with 'pledges' of money and you can thank them with 'rewards'.

What kind of projects are we looking for?

We are looking for new and original ideas for things for young people to do and places for them to go in Dorset.

www.crowdfunder.co.uk

Note from the Editor: Marnhull's very own Atom Club has just raised £7,500 on Crowdfunder, so it really can work! We're relisted to get the rest of the funds needed to open the new centre in Sturminster Newton.

Sackmore Lane Development

I was reading the minutes from the November Parish Council meeting and saw that an update on the development site in Sackmore Lane would be welcomed by the Parish Council.

I felt this might be a good forum for us as developer to keep the village up to date on progress from time to time.

Siam Developments a family owned property business has purchased the site and we are currently working towards discharging the planning conditions. The recent work at the site was both archaeological survey and also investigative work to establish how to treat surface water drainage across the development.

Some Iron Age and Roman artifacts were found on the site, demonstrating some historical occupation and they were taken away for further study. The items were very small fragments and at this time, no further archaeological work is required. We will maintain a watching brief in this area of the site as required by the LPA when digging the footings.

Over the coming months, we will be working on the property designs with our architects. We are aiming to build a quality and characterful development that compliments the historic and very beautiful heart of the village and in time we will have a website with computer generated images.

We hope to be able to commence work on site in late Spring 2017 and aim to complete the development within a period of 12 months.

We are of course mindful of the disruption that such a development can cause and will work hard with our building contractors to minimise this.

I would of course appreciate if you could keep my contact details confidential to avoid lots of direct mail coming through and when we have some more news, I will update the messenger if you think that would be beneficial.

Children's Play Area Equipment

We only ever hear praise and enthusiasm for the Children's Play Area on the Village Recreation ground and the time has come where it needs updating and improvement to fulfil Health and Safety standards. The Parish Council is committed to this project in order to make this well-loved area of the village a more interesting place for the children and their parents to enjoy. This of course comes at a cost.

After consulting with several parents and children who regularly use the Play Area and the Baby and Toddler Group we have taken advice from a number of companies who supply and fit this type of equipment and the total cost would be around £22,000. This would include the new equipment, safety matting and secure fitting to Health and Safety standards. We have looked carefully at the best and most practical equipment that will give the essential health and safety requirements, longevity, minimal maintenance costs and of course help promote the children's health, development and learning skills as well as being a lot of fun. The costs are high and so we are looking for your help in supporting this well used village amenity.

The total we have so far to date is £12,000. We are applying for some funding in the way of grants but as yet nothing is forth coming. If you are aware of any one that may have contacts with companies that could offer grants etc. or may be interested in sponsoring a piece of equipment, please let us know. Every little helps.

The hope is that we can have the new equipment in place by April 2017 to make the most of the good weather. We want to make the Play Area more child friendly and a place where parents and children can enjoy their time together in a safe environment.

Cllr Sandy Kerr & Cllr Louella Hamer

The truth about dates: Use by date and best before, safety and quality

In general food law requires pre packed food to have a date mark. Depending on the food type this is either a 'use by' date or a 'best before' date

The use by date is about safety and the most important date to remember! Foods can be eaten (and most can be frozen) up until the use by date, but not after, unless it was frozen before the use by date. You will see use by dates on food that goes off quickly, such as meat products or ready-prepared salads. For the use by to be a valid guide, you must carefully follow storage instructions.

The best before date is about quality and not safety. The food will be safe to eat after this date but may not be at its best. Its flavour and texture might not be as good. The best before dates appear on a wide range of frozen, dried, tinned and other foods. The best before date will only be accurate if the food is stored according to the instructions on the label.

After the use by date, don't eat it, cook it or freeze it. The food could be unsafe to eat or drink, even if it is stored correctly and looks and smells fine.

For quick tips to save money, make time and reduce waste by eating, cooking or freezing food by its use by date visit https://www.food.gov.uk/science/microbiology/use-by-and-best-before-dates

Shops can sell food once the 'best before' date has passed, however selling food past its 'use by' date is a criminal offence and can lead to prosecution. A supermarket in the Midlands was recently prosecuted and fined £75,000 for selling which was past its 'use by' date.

Is your mattress safe?

Trading Standards have been cracking down on rogue traders selling illegal mattresses after an increase in complaints from consumers about cheap mattresses sold online or from the back of a van.

The law requires that mattresses meet a level of fire resistance as laid down in the British Standard, however it does not require that mattresses have a label to that effect.

Rogue sellers may entice customers into thinking they are getting a bargain, for example by saying that they are selling clearance stock, or excess stock from a large hotel order.

The mattresses typically fail all fire safety tests as well as being filthy and unhygienic. The items are often old and discarded mattresses that have been recovered and repackaged to look new. Some of the more brazen traders are even using the logos of well-known manufacturers and retailers on their vans to further fool consumers into believing they are 'bagging a bargain'. Paper work given with the mattresses may contain limited or false information.

Dorset Trading Standards Service has on two separate occasions prosecuted traders for selling mattresses which when tested failed the fire safety tests.

Devon and Somerset Trading Standards have issued warnings to residents as complaints about mattresses increased tenfold in the period from 2014 to 2016.

Dorset Trading Standards Service advise that you do not purchase goods or services from people who approach you in the street or from callers who cold call on your doorstep.

If you want to report concerns over mattresses, or if you would like advice about your consumer rights, then please contact the Citizens Advice consumer helpline on 03454 040506.

Breathe-On UK

Breathe on UK is the national independent non-disease specific advocate for all children requiring technology to breathe across the country. We're based right here in Marnhull.

The charity supports the families and carers of young people who are lifedependent on mechanical breathing, or long term ventilation (LTV). Such a situation is recognised as being extremely traumatic and emotionally, physically, and financially demanding.

Recent research and medical estimates indicate that there are thousands of children in the UK who exist with this condition and that the number is growing every year.

There has never been a more critical opportunity for working together to enable as many children as clinically stable to return home to their community setting, freeing up critical care neo-natal and paediatric intensive care beds available at a point of need. Currently one ward in London in a major teaching hospital has 14 beds which are blocked by children who have been clinically stable for over 6 months.

Breathe-On UK has only survived due to your generosity. The role until this concept was realised has been on the same strategy as The Samaritans operating from a fully serviced base in a Medical centre.

Over the last 6 years the role has morphed into The National Independent Advocate this is due to the alarming increase in babies surviving with the aid of medical technology. We cannot turn the clock back but will advocate for appropriate care on a case by case basis.

Breathe-On UK is now fundraising to raise £70K on the Virgin Money giving website.

February and March Events

New technology has opened up the world of photography to many more people, but sometimes with varying success. Whilst most of us are happy to simply 'point and shoot' to capture a special moment, others strive to create an image of the living world around us, and that takes a great deal of patience and preparation.

Stewart Canham leads DWT's Photographic and Video group and is an experienced wildlife photographer. On Wednesday, 15th February 2017, he will give an illustrated talk on Wildlife Photography at Fontmell Magna Village Hall (SP7 0JU), starting at 7.30pm. This will be the perfect opportunity to discover the art of wildlife photography and learn from a highly skilled practitioner. We ask for a small donation of £2 (including tea/coffee & biscuits) to help cover expenses, but there is no charge for children under 16.

Date for your diary: Wednesday, 15th March 2017 – An illustrated talk on 'Gardening for Wildlife' by DWT Community Conservation Officer, Briony Baxter, in Fontmell Magna Village Hall (SP7 0JU) at 7.30pm. £2 (including refreshments); no charge for children under 16.

University of the Third Age

John Smith gave us a vivid account of the Channel dash that took place from the 11th February 1942 it was an audacious exploit to sail three of the German fleet flag ships from Brest in Brittany back to their home bases in Germany. The Scharnhorst, the Gneisenau and the Prinz Eugen had been blockaded in Brest and Coastal Command did manage to inflict periodic damage using torpedo bombers. These were extremely dangerous missions for the British air crew, but they did succeed in reducing the seaworthiness of the vessels The Germans intended to sail the three German war ships up the English Channel, past the Royal Navy, the British Army, Royal Airforce and their commands, Bomber Command, Coastal Command and Fighter Command. Both sides had plans. Agents in Brest were unable to communicate due to radio jamming by the German and the ships left Brest and escaped detection for over 12 hours getting as far as the approaches to the Straights of Dover without being discovered. (Although spotter planes and the Sea Lion submarine were looking for the flotilla, faulty radar and cloud cover allowed the flotilla to pass undetected).

The Luftwaffe provided very effective air cover and were aided by foggy conditions which confused both sides. (At one point the Luftwaffe were providing air cover for a misidentified British battle ship). The artillery battery at Dover had guns of sufficient range to take on the flotilla on the French side of the channel. With the new RADAR ranging available they could start engaging the ships, unfortunately, the gunners also needed visual confirmation for accuracy and with the fog missed the targets by about a mile. The ships reached their home ports 2 days later and Churchill was far from impressed and ordered an immediate inquiry into the fiasco. However, although it looked like a German victory, the ships were now basically trapped in their German bases where they were bombed on several occasions and were no longer a threat to the Atlantic convoys. For Germany, it was a tactical victory, but a strategic defeat.

Our next meeting at 10am on the 2nd February, at the Father's House, Shaftesbury, will feature Colin Marsh telling us about a Cycle Ride to Romania.
